

SERVIANS DEFEAT AUSTRIANS---15,000 ANNIHILATED

ANTWERP BECOMES CAPITAL

Belgians Now Have New Seat.

GERMAN HORSEMEN NEARING BRUSSELS

Measures Have Been Taken to Defend the City.

London, Aug. 18.—The Daily Express says: "There is little doubt that a great battle is now occurring in Belgium between the Germans and the Belgian and French allies. Our correspondent, in a cryptic dispatch from Ghent, indicates that the Germans are advancing on the historic battleground at Waterloo and that events of the greatest importance are in progress."

London, Aug. 18.—A dispatch from Brussels says: The seat of government has been moved to Antwerp and measures have been taken for the defense of Brussels because of the approach of German cavalry.

The Belgian ministers of war, finance and foreign affairs and French and Russian ministers to Belgium have left Brussels for Antwerp, according to dispatches received here. The affairs of France and Russia were left by their respective ministers in the hands of the Spanish legation.

It is expected that the legations will follow the government to Antwerp, but the French minister will remain here, sending the counselor to Antwerp to keep in touch with the Belgian government.

The Solr says that according to news which is confirmed by the war office the Belgian infantry, in conjunction with the French cavalry, brilliantly repulsed the German attack. The location of the engagement is not mentioned.

After remaining virtually inactive for two days German cavalry, which was recently repulsed by the Belgians, undertook new offensive operations against the Belgians. It was evident that the Germans were awaiting reinforcements. When these arrived they proceeded in the direction of Wavre, a town fifteen miles south-east of Brussels. During this advance the Germans encountered the fire of the Belgian outposts and after a number of skirmishes the German offensive movement was stopped.

Telegraphing from Brussels the Exchange Telegraph company's correspondent says:

"Many disquieting rumors have been circulated owing to the removal of the seat of government to Antwerp and the departure of the royal family.

"Fear is expressed that the German effort to force the extreme left and center of the Belgian lines between Gembloux and Wavre and Jodoigne and Tirlemont is to effect a raid on Brussels, or else to cover the German advance toward the French army by way of Liege and Namur."

FIGHT LASTS SEVEN HOURS

Germans Tell of Defeating French at Lagarde.

Berlin, via Copenhagen and London, Aug. 18.—German wounded, who have arrived here, tell of the battle at Lagarde. The fighting lasted seven hours under a burning sun. The Germans were opposed by far superior forces, strongly entrenched. The German artillery fire was brilliant, two specially dangerous French batteries being quickly taken.

The French occupied all the houses and the church tower in the village, whence they fired rifles and revolvers. The third shell from the German artillery demolished the church tower and the village was captured by the Germans in a flank attack, giving the German cavalry a complete victory.

The French fled, but many of their men were taken prisoners.

Battlefields Are Inferno.

London, Aug. 18.—Apparently authentic report here says the plains of Belgium are a veritable inferno. An American correspondent says an adequate idea can be given by multiplying tenfold the horrors of Gettysburg.

DEVELOPMENTS IN EUROPE.

Germans are forcing their way through Belgium, it is indicated by the Brussels report that German cavalry is approaching the Belgian capital; that measures for the defense of Brussels are being hastened and that the seat of government has been removed to Antwerp.

The British official press bureau announces that any action which Japan may take against Germany will not extend beyond the China seas, except for the protection of Japanese shipping.

The British war council and the German general staff decided to exclude correspondents from the forces in the field and it is announced that the French war department intends to take the same action.

The German emperor, the crown prince and two other imperial princes are now at the great fortress of Mainz. Several Austrian army corps, according to advices from Vienna, have invaded Russia and the Russian advance in Galicia has been checked.

Brussels admits that the French casualties in the fighting between Namur and Dinant were heavy, as the Germans were strongly entrenched and their artillery played great havoc.

The British official news bureau says that the French fleet in the Mediterranean has made a sweep up the Adriatic as far as Cattaro. Four Austrian warships are reported to have been sunk.

GERMAN FORTRESS CHECKS ADVANCE

French Troops Occupy Valley of the Bruche.

London, Aug. 18.—The Paris correspondent of the Reuter Telegram company sends the following:

"In a review of the military situation the Temps points out that the French troops cannot debouch on the plain by the valley of the Bruche, which is barred by the fortress at Molsheim in Alsace, twelve miles southwest of Strassburg, but says it has been necessary to occupy the valley as, otherwise, it might be utilized by the Germans.

"The Temps suggests that the fact that heavy artillery has been found in that region may be construed as indicating that the Germans are massing troops behind the Rhine, preparing to force the passes of the Vosges mountains."

PARISIANS PERFECTLY CALM

American Ambassador Reports on Conditions in France.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Ambassador Herrick informed the state department the conditions in Paris are virtually normal and the populace calm. His cablegram said street traffic is as usual except for the absence of the great motor omnibuses, which have been requisitioned by the government for carrying troops.

The situation of Americans apparently is relieved entirely, as the ambassador makes no mention of it. The chief sign of war, the ambassador says, is the slight rise in the prices of foodstuffs.

The issuance of small notes by the Bank of France has relieved the contraction of currency due to the disappearance of gold.

BELGIANS ARE ADVANCING

German Forward Movement Said to Be Delayed.

London, Aug. 18.—"The left wing of the Belgian army, assembled in force to cover Brussels, has advanced from Louvain to Bevar, in the direction of Diest," says the Brussels correspondent of the Daily Express.

"The delay in the German attack at this point," the correspondent continues, "is attributed to the severe losses inflicted by the Belgians. There is no doubt also that the reluctance of Austria to send her promised quota of troops, in consequence of Italy's attitude, and an incipient anti-war movement in Germany, have wrecked the German plans and delayed the advance of the German emperor's troops."

CORRESPONDENTS ARE BARRED FROM ARMIES OF ALLIES.

London, Aug. 18.—The British army council has decided not to allow any war correspondents to accompany the expeditionary force for the present. Some passes had been issued, but there have been revoked.

THRIFT.

Thrift does not require superior courage nor superior intellect nor any superhuman virtue. . . . It needs no fervent resolution, but only a little patient self denial. Begin its device! The more the habit of thrift is practiced the easier it becomes.—Samuel Smiles.

GRIM STAGE SETTING AT NAMUR

Streets Piled High With Sand Bags.

PREPARATIONS GO ON FOR BIG ENGAGEMENT

No Vehicles or Horses Available for Private Use.

London, Aug. 18.—A Namur dispatch to the Daily Telegraph describes conditions there as follows:

"The grim stage setting for the war is the first thing that strikes the attention of the arriving traveler. Here soldiers patrol the streets, which are zigzagged by numerous barricades and piled with sand bags.

"At the station we were stopped by the military and put through a rigid examination. One cannot move through the streets without a pass, which is examined by patrols at frequent intervals.

"The barricades along the principal thoroughfares have been made by dragging enormous vans across the roadways and turning the vans into blockhouses with sides pierced for rifle fire. Sand bags are piled breast high inside and outside.

"The hotels have been commandeered by the military. No vehicles and no horses are available for private use.

"Hardly had we left the hotel than we heard the whirling aeroplane propeller of a German scout machine overhead, which was followed across the city by a hail of rifle bullets from sharpshooters.

"These German aeroplanes are striking in appearance. Once seen they are never to be forgotten. They are scarab shaped, have a patch of blue across each wing and very noisy. "The spirit of the Belgian people is splendid. They take their misfortune philosophically."

BELIEVES ALLIES MOVING

Military Expert Sums Up Conditions in War Zone.

London, Aug. 18.—The Times military expert says:

"From many sources come clear indications that the general advance of the allies against the Austro-German forces has begun. It is not only in the west, but also on the east and south of the vast theater of war that collisions are impending.

"The Russians are in East Prussia and Galicia. A second Russian army, 800,000 strong, is nearly ready to move forward against Germany.

"These Russian armies will grow steadily in numbers week by week. "When the German concentration was unveiled it was found to extend somewhat more to the north than had been expected. Had the Germans obtained a clear run through Belgium this might have gained for them an initial advantage."

SHIP HELD UP THREE TIMES

Dutch Steamer Has Exciting Time Crossing Atlantic.

New York, Aug. 18.—The Holland American liner Nieuw Amsterdam, flying the Dutch flag and having on board many American refugees, arrived here after being held three times by warships on her trip across from Rotterdam.

On Aug. 8, five hours and a half out of European shores, she was stopped by a Dutch torpedo boat destroyer. Forty minutes later a shot passed across her bow and three British warships surrounded her.

When 376 miles east of Sandy Hook the cruiser Essex came alongside after the Nieuw Amsterdam had slowed down in response to two shots from the Briton's guns. Each time she was held up the passenger liner satisfied the warship that she belonged to a neutral nation and was allowed to proceed.

Concessions to Jews.

London, Aug. 18.—The Paris correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company learns that the Russian emperor will sign a proclamation at an early date giving the Jews in his dominions equal civil and political rights with his other subjects.

Say Vise Was Fired.

Amsterdam, Aug. 18.—The Germans fired Vise, it is said, because their troops were fired on by inhabitants. Liege has been placed under German civil authority.

PARIS ANNOUNCES STEADY PROGRESS

Avers German Forces Abandon Upper Alsace in Disorder.

Paris, Aug. 18.—An official statement issued says:

"The situation continues good. We are making methodical progress in Upper Alsace. The German forces are retreating in great disorder, some towards the north, others to the east. This is proved by the enormous amount of shells, wagons and provisions abandoned.

"The Germans also lost much more heavily in this region than we at first thought. This is proved by the number of bodies found.

"They are making the same progress in the valleys of Sainte Marie and the Danos, are marching down the valley of Bruche toward Strassburg. Everything goes to show that the Germans in this region are completely disorganized.

"Our troops are gaining ground along the line of Lorquin, Adondange and Marcal. We have gained ground varying from ten to twenty kilometers (six to twelve miles) all along the frontier from Belfort to Chambray and have established ourselves solidly both in Alsace and Lorraine."

CABLE CONDITIONS BETTER

Congestion Mainly Due to Censorship Requirements.

New York, Aug. 18.—Inquiry at the offices here of the three great transatlantic cable companies developed the fact that on all fifteen lines between North America and Europe traffic still was congested seriously. The congestion, it was said, was due primarily to the requirements and restrictions of the censors at the European terminals.

The Western Union Telegraph company's system of eight cables was in better condition than at any time since the establishment of censorship in Europe, it was said.

The regulation requiring that the name and complete address of the addressee be written in full, as well as the name of the sender, was causing much of the congestion on this system, although it was said that at least once in every twenty-four hours the lines were clear.

REPORT IS NOT CONFIRMED

British Ship Said to Have Sunk German Cruiser.

London, Aug. 18.—A Paris dispatch to the Daily Telegraph says:

"It is reported that an engagement between a British and German warship has occurred off the Canary Islands. It is stated that a German cruiser has been sunk and also that a British cruiser has captured a German ship collecting munitions of war."

The British official news bureau has no information concerning these reports.

Customs Receipts Decrease.

Washington, Aug. 18.—An indication of the effect of the European war upon American customs revenue was given in the treasury statement, which showed that customs receipts of $11,118,642 so far this month are about $4,400,000 below the income for the same period last year.

DENOUNCE JAPANESE ATTITUDE

Many Americans Are Suspicious.

BELIEVE AMBITIONS ARE BEHIND ACTION

White House Alone Accepts Assurances at Face Value.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Expressions from the United States that the United States government is satisfied with assurances respecting the territorial integrity of China contained in the Japanese ultimatum to Germany found no echo elsewhere in Washington.

The action of Japan was denounced as the least defensible move yet made in connection with the European wars and initiated for the sole purpose of furthering Japanese ambitions.

The opinion was expressed in all quarters in Washington that not only was the action of Japan calculated to enlist the sympathy of the American public with Germany, but that also it should serve as a warning to the United States to look with extreme care to the preservation of its own interests and the principles it has stood for in the Pacific ocean.

Nowhere except at the White House were the assurances of Japan to Germany accepted at their face value. The position taken by Japan in her note, to the effect that her action was necessary to preserve the peace of the Far East and that German withdrawal from Kiaochow was demanded with a view to the eventual restoration of that territory to China, was regarded as a ploy to cover an intention to take Kiaochow for herself.

It was recognized, of course, that the administration hardly could do anything but accept the statements of Japan at the value set upon them by Japan herself. In fact in diplomatic circles the point was made that Japan represented her purpose to be purely in the interest of peace and the integrity of China for the sole purpose of making it difficult, if not impossible, for the United States to raise her voice in objection to the Japanese program.

In responsible Japanese quarters even the situation was discussed with a frankness which seemed to justify the view taken of the Japanese action in other than the very highest sources.

It was explained by Japanese that it is necessary for Japan to demand that Germany turn Kiaochow over to her, instead of to China, because of the fact that China in her present state is not strong enough to hold the territory leased to Germany against possible greedy nations.

Japan therefore intends to take it from Germany and hold it for China until such time as China has become strong enough and stable enough to be trusted to hold what is rightfully hers.

AMERICANS JOIN FRENCH ROUGH RIDER REGIMENT.

London, Aug. 18.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Paris says:

"The recruiting of a corps of rough riders is proceeding rapidly. Several American cowboys and former American cavalrymen are among its members. Three wealthy Americans have promised to furnish the best mounts money can buy for the entire body. The troop will be self-supporting and is expected to start for the front in ten days."

CONDITIONS NEAR NORMAL

American Financial Situation Improving Steadily.

New York, Aug. 18.—Further progress toward normal conditions was manifested in the domestic financial situation. Although resumption of open trading is still a matter of conjecture private business in bonds was slightly more active. Dealings in stocks were limited almost wholly to contracts entered into before the exchange closed and these are now reduced to a minimum.

Encouragement was expressed over the more complete understanding between the administration at Washington and the influential banking interests regarding the pressing need of remedial measures.

Customs Receipts Decrease.

Washington, Aug. 18.—An indication of the effect of the European war upon American customs revenue was given in the treasury statement, which showed that customs receipts of $11,118,642 so far this month are about $4,400,000 below the income for the same period last year.

DENOUNCE JAPANESE ATTITUDE

Many Americans Are Suspicious.

BELIEVE AMBITIONS ARE BEHIND ACTION

White House Alone Accepts Assurances at Face Value.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Expressions from the United States that the United States government is satisfied with assurances respecting the territorial integrity of China contained in the Japanese ultimatum to Germany found no echo elsewhere in Washington.

The action of Japan was denounced as the least defensible move yet made in connection with the European war and initiated for the sole purpose of furthering Japanese ambitions.

The opinion was expressed in all quarters in Washington that not only was the action of Japan calculated to enlist the sympathy of the American public with Germany, but that also it should serve as a warning to the United States to look with extreme care to the preservation of its own interests and the principles it has stood for in the Pacific ocean.

Nowhere except at the White House were the assurances of Japan to Germany accepted at their face value. The position taken by Japan in her note, to the effect that her action was necessary to preserve the peace of the Far East and that German withdrawal from Kiaochow was demanded with a view to the eventual restoration of that territory to China, was regarded as a ploy to cover an intention to take Kiaochow for herself.

It was recognized, of course, that the administration hardly could do anything but accept the statements of Japan at the value set upon them by Japan herself. In fact in diplomatic circles the point was made that Japan represented her purpose to be purely in the interest of peace and the integrity of China for the sole purpose of making it difficult, if not impossible, for the United States to raise her voice in objection to the Japanese program.

In responsible Japanese quarters even the situation was discussed with a frankness which seemed to justify the view taken of the Japanese action in other than the very highest sources.

It was explained by Japanese that it is necessary for Japan to demand that Germany turn Kiaochow over to her, instead of to China, because of the fact that China in her present state is not strong enough to hold the territory leased to Germany against possible greedy nations.

Japan therefore intends to take it from Germany and hold it for China until such time as China has become strong enough and stable enough to be trusted to hold what is rightfully hers.

AMERICANS JOIN FRENCH ROUGH RIDER REGIMENT.

London, Aug. 18.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Paris says: "The recruiting of a corps of rough riders is proceeding rapidly. Several American cowboys and former American cavalrymen are among its members. Three wealthy Americans have promised to furnish the best mounts money can buy for the entire body. The troop will be self-supporting and is expected to start for the front in ten days."

CONDITIONS NEAR NORMAL

American Financial Situation Improving Steadily.

New York, Aug. 18.—Further progress toward normal conditions was manifested in the domestic financial situation. Although resumption of open trading is still a matter of conjecture private business in bonds was slightly more active. Dealings in stocks were limited almost wholly to contracts entered into before the exchange closed and these are now reduced to a minimum.

Encouragement was expressed over the more complete understanding between the administration at Washington and the industrial banks interests regarding the pressing need of remedial measures.

Buried Treasures in Morocco.

In Morocco it is customary for a man to bury most of his riches in a place known only to himself. This custom is practiced by all Moors, for they cannot trust their own family, who would murder them directly if it were known where the money was. At the death of the head of a family in Morocco digging operations commence at once, but seldom is the money discovered. There must be many fortunes buried away in odd corners of the country. An instance came under the writer's notice at one of the coast towns. During the demolition of a house a considerable sum of money was found built into the wall.—London Graphic.

PAYMENT ON OLD BASIS

New Regulations Revoked and Rural Carriers Will be Paid on the Old Basis of Mileage

A telegram from Washington under date of August 17th states that Senator Knute Nelson has received word from the postoffice department that rural letter carriers will be paid hereafter on the basis of the length of their routes.

In the last postoffice appropriation bill, provision was made for an increase of $100 a year in the salaries of all rural carriers. The department issued regulations providing that salaries were to be based not only on the length of routes, but also upon the quantity of parcel post matter handled.

The carriers, in their protest to Senator Nelson, stated that under the ruling of the department many of those operating on shorter routes would receive larger salaries than those operating on the longer routes. They contended that the salaries should be based on the length of the routes, as heretofore.

Protests came not only from Minnesota, but other states in the northwest, and they were backed up so vigorously by senators and representatives that the new regulations have been revoked and payments will be made on the old basis, on the length of the routes.

The new rule makes a radical change in the department plan, which was to make a graduated scale of salaries based upon mileage, number of packages and weight, and this construction of the law was placed in operation and July salaries paid on that basis. Under the new rule all carriers who serve a standard route of 24 miles and over six days in the week will be paid $1,200 per annum. This will change the schedule of pay of the rural carriers out of the Brainerd office as published in the Dispatch Monday, and which was the order under which they have been working, so that each of the four carriers will receive $1,200, the length of the routes being as follows: Route 1, 27 1/2 miles; route 2, 27 1/2 miles; route 3, 27 5-8 miles; route 4, 24 1/2 miles. The local office has not yet received instructions regarding the change.

Origin of the Argentine Flag.

Mr. Fraser, in telling of the origin of the Argentine flag, says: "The emphatic patriotism of the American is tepled alongside the hot blooded nationality of Argentina. It is daily inculcated in the schools; the blue and white striped flag is honored on every occasion. When the Argentines were in revolution against Spain in 1810 and needed a banner to flaunt against the red and orange of the enemy they got pieces of blue and white cloth intended for garments from an English warship lying at Montevideo and made a flag of it. So the Argentine flag, like much of Argentine prosperity, is due to Great Britain." Mr. Fraser holds that, in proportion to the population, there are as many millionaires in Argentina as in the United States.—Westminster Gazette.

Buried Treasures in Morocco.

In Morocco it is customary for a man to bury most of his riches in a place known only to himself. This custom is practiced by all Moors, for they cannot trust their own family, who would murder them directly if it were known where the money was. At the death of the head of a family in Morocco digging operations commence at once, but seldom is the money discovered. There must be many fortunes buried away in odd corners of the country. An instance came under the writer's notice at one of the coast towns. During the demolition of a house a considerable sum of money was found built into the wall.—London Graphic.

PAYMENT ON OLD BASIS

New Regulations Revoked and Rural Carriers Will be Paid on the Old Basis of Mileage

A telegram from Washington under date of August 17th states that Senator Knute Nelson has received word from the postoffice department that rural letter carriers will be paid hereafter on the basis of the length of their routes.

In the last postoffice appropriation bill, provision was made for an increase of $100 a year in the salaries of all rural carriers. The department issued regulations providing that salaries were to be based not only on the length of routes, but also upon the quantity of parcel post matter handled.

The carriers, in their protest to Senator Nelson, stated that under the ruling of the department many of those operating on shorter routes would receive larger salaries than those operating on the longer routes. They contended that the salaries should be based on the length of the routes, as heretofore.

Protests came not only from Minnesota, but other states in the northwest, and they were backed up so vigorously by senators and representatives that the new regulations have been revoked and payments will be made on the old basis, on the length of the routes.

The new rule makes a radical change in the department plan, which was to make a graduated scale of salaries based upon mileage, number of packages and weight, and this construction of the law was placed in operation and July salaries paid on that basis. Under the new rule all carriers who serve a standard route of 24 miles and over six days in the week will be paid $1,200 per annum. This will change the schedule of pay of the rural carriers out of the Brainerd office as published in the Dispatch Monday, and which was the order under which they have been working, so that each of the four carriers will receive $1,200, the length of the routes being as follows: Route 1, 27 1/2 miles; route 2, 27 1/2 miles; route 3, 27 5-8 miles; route 4, 24 1/2 miles. The local office has not yet received instructions regarding the change.

Mr. Fraser, in telling of the origin of the Argentine flag, says: "The enthusiastic patriotism of the American is tepid alongside the hot blooded nationalism of Argentina. It is daily inculcated in the schools; the blue and white striped flag is honored on every occasion. When the Argentines were in revolution against Spain in 1810 and needed a banner to flaunt against the red and orange of the enemy they got pieces of blue and white cloth intended for garments from an English warship lying at Montevideo and made a flag of it. So the Argentine flag, like much of Argentine prosperity, is due to Great Britain." Mr. Fraser holds that, in proportion to the population, there are as many millionaires in Argentina as in the United States.—Westminster Gazette.

MANAGER AND SEC'Y. RESIGN

The St. Cloud Times contains the following regarding the resignation of the officers of the base ball team in that city, owing to the cancellation of the Sunday game without sanction:

Baseball in St. Cloud for the remainder of the season seems to have gone up Salt Creek. Just where Salt Creek lies even those who have carefully followed the Mexican war, the little affair in progress near the Atlantic line, the differences being argued by French, English, Belgian, German and Russian representatives and the attitude being assumed by the Japs, do not know, Salt Creek, it seems, is a stream in as remote a corner of the world as Teddy Roosevelt's river of doubt. In fact there is as much doubt about Salt Creek as there is about the River of Doubt. But that is neither here nor there as far as the matter of Pretzel baseball activities are concerned.

That the good ship Pretzel steamed under too heavy a cargo of officials has been evident from the beginning of the season. They have been a manager, a secretary and directors. Each official has enjoyed duties overlapping his colleagues. The big display of pyrotechnics was reserved for Saturday and the Brainerd game was the cause of the final mutiny. As a result of the cancellation of yesterday's game, Secretary Bruning and Manager Prem have resigned. Directors admit that the outlook for further baseball this season is dark.

The management is in the hole several shining simoleans. Fearing to venture a contest yesterday and run the risk of going in further, the Brainerd fray was declared off.

Adversity's Only Sure Bet.

Don't place too much dependence in human nature—not because men in general are untrustworthy, which I do not mean to imply, but because they are human. Promises are often born of momentary enthusiasm and made with the best intentions of ultimate fulfillment. But things happen, conditions change, ardor cools; the sentiment of liberality is superseded by one of selfish interest, and pledges made in the best of faith are forgotten.

Everything human is frail and mutable. The nature of a man may change with each new environment, but the coin of the realm has a fixed and dependable value. You may fail to cash in on promises, but you can always collect 100 cents on a dollar bill.

That's the reason I say to you that it's all right to have faith in men, but put your implicit trust in cash. It's the only sure bet in the moment of adversity.—Maurice Switzer in Leslie's

CITY HALL

CONTRACT LET

Hodgins Construction Co. of St. Paul
Get General Building
Contract

AGGREGATE COST IS $64,565.00

Slipp-Gruenhagen Co. Gets the Heating and Plumbing Contract

The matter of the lots on which the new city hall is to be placed was taken up and the Salvation Army was given permission to move their building, now located on lot 22, block 45, to lot 15, block 17. This clears the lots in question and leaves them clear for the construction of the new building which will commence as soon as the contractors can get their material on the ground.

When the bids were opened for the city hall and jail building they were confronted with a mass of applications with which they wrestled until nearly 12 o'clock when they adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning. The council again took the city hall matter up and behind closed doors sorted and tabulated the figures as given by the several applicants with the result that the contract was let as follows:

Jail cells, corridors, doors, vault doors, etc., went to the Dubold Safe Co. of St. Paul, at $4,100.

The plumbing and heating contract was let to Slipp-Gruenhagen Co. of Brainerd, at $3,673 for the plumbing and $3,811 for the heating plant. The material to be used to be purchased of Crane & Ordway Co. and approved by the architect.

A bill of $1,600 was awarded the contractor for the drawing of the plans and other work incurred in the preparations for the bids.

Brainerd is now assured of a public owned city hall, jail and fire station, all to be complete in the most up to date construction and a credit to any city of this size in the state. The building will be of dark pressed brick variegated in color and trimmed with light granite and dark stone.

At the regular meeting held last night a communication was read from Geo. F. Reed, president of the street railway company, having the franchise to construct and operate a street railway in the city of Brainerd, asking for an extension of time for the commencement of actual work of construction until Sept. 15, 1915. The city attorney was instructed to draw up an amendment to so change the ordinance to read as Mr. Reid desired. The war scare and the condition of the money market was given as the cause of the delay but it was stated by Mr. Reid that actual work would commence in a short time as the company was now incorporated in another state which would remove the restriction of selling the bonds at less than par. The company is said to be in good financial condition and no further hitch on the development work is anticipated, according to Mr. Reid.

The fire commissioner was instructed to make an inspection of all the basements in the city and see that they were kept up to the fire regulations.

A liquor license was granted to Geo. Donant, while the application of August Miller was turned down.

A building permit was granted to the First Methodist Episcopal church to enable them to change their church building and make the improvements planned.

A petition from south Fifth street residents calling for a sewer system and to have the street curbed and paved with concrete was presented to the board. The matter was referred to the city attorney and the city engineer to have a suitable ordinance drafted and a district laid out to include the territory named.

A resolution was adopted ordering in a 6, 8 and 10 inch sewer to be laid to start at the intersection of Third street and Bluff avenue north, running thence east on Bluff avenue to Tenth street and then in a northerly direction to where it will connect with the general sewer.

An ordinance received its final reading licensing the use of streets, avenues and alleys by vehicles for the transportation of persons and properties, and making a license charge of $1 for one horse vehicles, $2 for two horses, $4 for four horses and $5 for more than four horses, $5 for an automobile and $3 for a motorcycle license to run for one year from date of issue.

An ordinance regulating the construction, maintenance and use of electric signs received its first reading.

The Southeast Brainerd sewer district "A" 3 and "C" 3 was taken up. The pastorel Construction Co. of Duluth, bid $4.30 a foot for "A" 3 sewer and $3.00 per foot for "C" 3. F. A. Glass of Brainerd, bid $3.92 a foot for "A" 3 and $3.47 for "C" 3. Itstrup & Olson of Minneapolis, bid $4.10 a foot for "A" 3 and $2.90 for

"C" 3. The council had a very general discussion and ended up by rejecting all bids and the city clerk was instructed to advertise for more bids.

On motion the council adjourned until Monday night, Sept. 25 at which time any points overlooked in regard to the city hall may be taken up.

HOW INDIANS GET LIQUOR

Committee Has Figures to Show the Effect of Rigid Law Enforcement in the "Lid" District

A WHITE MAN'S COUNTRY

The committee having in charge the job before them of convincing the government that the enforcement of the "lid" in the so-called Indian country would be an injustice to the general public in order to secure the rescinding of the early treaties are preparing a line of argument which is outlined below in an article over a Bemidji date line, and as Brainerd came under Pussfoot Johnson's operations at the time the raids were made on the saloons of Northern Minnesota the subject will be interesting to those keeping in touch with later developments:

Five representatives of the organization of Northern Minnesota Business men known officially as the "Treaty committee" will go to Washington about Sept. 1 to arrange for a hearing later in the month when detailed arguments can be made against the enforcement of the Indian treaty "lid" in this vast territory.

Preliminary statistics to show the effect of the enforcement of the prohibition clause in the pact of 1855 will be submitted by these representatives as an argument for a more complete investigation by Franklin E. Lane, secretary of the interior, and Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs, directly in charge of the enforcement of the treaty provisions as outlined by the United States supreme court in the now famous "lid" case.

The committee has had a force of experts at work for several months gathering data on the subject. It will be shown that the territory covered by the 1855 treaty is 184 miles from east to west, extending from near Duluth to the Red River of the North on the western boundary of Minnesota, and 151 miles north and south at its widest point.

It is said that the white population is 400,000 and the Indian population, according to the government estimate, only 7,196.

The committee, however, says that these figures as to the Indians are exaggerated and that in reality there are not more than 4,000 in the territory covered by the lid order.

Statistics also are being prepared to show the rapid decrease in the area of Indian reservations in Minnesota. In 1888 the reservation covered 7,853 square miles of territory; in 1900, 2,447 square miles and in 1912 only 910 square miles, practically all in the Red Lake reservation.

There is not an acre of reservation land in the district covered by the 1855 treaty, it is said.

Other data is being prepared to show the authorities at Washington that this is not an Indian country, as it is said many of them suppose, but truly a "white man's country." To do this figures regarding the assessed valuation over a period of years, the value of farm property and products and other similar facts are being prepared.

The committee has made an investigation of how the Indians get liquor in this district. The report shows that it comes mostly from "bootleggers," and that the licensed saloons are very careful about dispensing firewater to the red men.

The Washington authorities will be asked to suspend any action in regard to enforcing the treaty lid until they have had time to examine into the situation. The argument will be advanced that to put the lid on in this district would in effect be depriving 400,000 whites of the right to determine the liquor question for themselves in order to save 4,000 Indians from the drink evil.

In addition an effort will be made to show that it is impossible to keep liquor from the Indians, lid or no lid, because if the country goes dry bootleggers from the surrounding wet territory will continue to do a thriving business, and will have whites as well as reds for their patrons.

Already the committee has obtained the adoption by twelve municipalities in the district of an ordinance prohibiting saloons from selling liquor by the jug, can or bottle. Other towns are expected to follow this example.

THREE DELEGATES ROAD CONGRESS

Mayor Henning Asked to Name Three Delegates to the American Road Congress at Atlanta

TO DISCUSS ROAD PROBLEMS

Every State Highway Commissioner Will be Present and Take Part in This Important Meeting

Mayor Henning of Brainerd, has been requested by the Hon. A. B. Fletcher, President of the Fourth American Road Congress and State Highway Engineer of California, to name three delegates to attend the sessions of the Congress at Atlanta, Georgia, during the week of November 9th.

Forty-seven great organizations are taking part in the Congress under the leadership of the American Highway association and the American Automobile association. In his letter to the mayor, President Fletcher calls attention to the fact that practically every state highway commissioner will be present and take part in discussing the important problems of road construction and maintenance and that some of the foremost men in public life will devote their attention to the great question of federal aid to road improvement, in an endeavor to work out a policy which may be submitted to the congress of the United States with the support of the organized road movement of America. An important move bearing upon state legislation will be made at the session to be held under the auspices of the American Bar association, at which a joint committee, appointed at the 1913 congress, will report progress in compilation and suggested revision of state road laws. The creation of a commission participated in by each state to work out a revision of the road laws will be urged. The National Civil Service Reform League will hold an exceedingly important session on the merit system in road administration.

President Fletcher calls attention to the exhibits to be made by the United States government, the states and more than a hundred of the leading manufacturers at the congress, which will illustrate every known method, material and equipment for road construction and maintenance. He urges that the city and county be officially represented, as the congress is in reality a training school where a very great amount of useful information can be obtained through attendance at lectures with leading specialists in road and street work, and the collecting of the many instructive bulletins which will be available for distribution.

The headquarters of the congress are in the Colorado building, Washington, D. C., in charge of I. S. Penabaker, executive secretary, and the exposition is in charge of Chas. P. Light, business manager.

Butter From Birds

Butter birds built nests in the tops of the caverns in niches and holes worn ages ago by water. A poke or two with a pole and the nest of gray clay looking like a big cheese came falling down, the young birds scattering on the floor of the cavern. The great lumps of fat between legs and under the tail of the nestlings were torn from them and piled into earthen pots and melted down into bird butter. The butter bird is about as large as a chicken and so sweet is the bird butter that it keeps a year or so without turning rancid. Rivaling "Zurawieiss" or grain belt beers in purity. J. O. ## "When the World was Silent"

"When the World Was Silent" is one of the strongest modern love dramas that has yet been conceived. You have heard of Beethoven, the great composer. But did you know that he became totally deaf when he was about thirty, and that he composed his greatest masterpieces after that time? It seems hard to believe, but such a thing is possible; and around this possibility the present play is woven—a play that is tense and thrilling, wherein a young musician, after having his hearing blotted out by the hand of his sweetheart, turned to composing and became famous.

MANAGER AND SEC'Y. RESIGN

The St. Cloud Times contains the following regarding the resignation of the officers of the base ball team in that city, owing to the cancellation of the Sunday game without sanction:

Baseball in St. Cloud for the remainder of the season seems to have gone up Salt Creek. Just where Salt Creek lies even those who have carefully followed the Mexican war, the little affair in progress near the Atlantic line, the differences being argued by French, English, Belgian, German and Russian representatives and the attitude being assumed by the Japs, do not know, Salt Creek, it seems, is a stream in as remote a corner of the world as Teddy Roosevelt's river of doubt. In fact there is as much doubt about Salt Creek as there is about the River of Doubt. But that is neither here nor there as far as the matter of Pretzel baseball activities are concerned.

That the good ship Pretzel steamed under too heavy a cargo of officials has been evident from the beginning of the season. They have been a manager, a secretary and directors. Each official has enjoyed duties overlapping his colleagues. The big display of pyrotechnics was reserved for Saturday and the Brainerd game was the cause of the final mutiny. As a result of the cancellation of yesterday's game, Secretary Bruning and Manager Prem have resigned. Directors admit that the outlook for further baseball this season is dark.

The management is in the hole several shining simoleans. Fearing to venture a contest yesterday and run the risk of going in further, the Brainerd fray was declared off.

Adversity's Only Sure Bet.

Don't place too much dependence in human nature—because men in general are untrustworthy, which I do not mean to imply, but because they are human. Promises are often born of momentary enthusiasm and made with the best intentions of ultimate fulfillment. But things happen, conditions change, ardor cools; the sentiment of liberality is superseded by one of selfish interest, and pledges made in the best of faith are forgotten.

Everything human is frail and mutable. The nature of a man may change with each new environment, but the coin of the realm has a fixed and dependable value. You may fail to cash in on promises, but you can always collect 100 cents on a dollar bill.

That's the reason I say to you that it's all right to have faith in men, but put your implicit trust in cash. It's the only sure bet in the moment of adversity.—Maurice Switzer in Leslie's

CITY HALL CONTRACT LET

Hodgins Construction Co. of St. Paul
Get General Building
Contract

AGGREGATE COST IS $64,565.00

The matter of the lots on which the new city hall is to be placed was taken up and the Salvation Army was given permission to move their building, now located on lot 22, block 45, to lot 15, block 17. This clears the lots in question and leaves them clear for the construction of the new building which will commence as soon as the contractors can get their material on the ground.

When the bids were opened for the city hall and jail building they were confronted with a mass of applications with which they wrestled until nearly 12 o'clock when they adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning. The council again took the city hall matter up and behind closed doors sorted and tabulated the figures as given by the several applicants with the result that the contract was let as follows:

Jail cells, corridors, doors, vault doors, etc., went to the Dubold Safe Co. of St. Paul, at $4,100

The plumbing and heating contract was let to Slipp-Gruenhagen Co. of Brainerd, at $3,673 for the plumbing and $3,811 for the heating plant. The material to be used to be purchased of Crane & Ordway Co. and approved by the architect.

A bill of $1,600 was awarded the contractor for the drawing of the plans and other work incurred in the preparations for the bids.

Brainerd is now assured of a public owned city hall, jail and fire station, all to be complete in the most up to date construction and a credit to any city of this size in the state.

The building will be of dark pressed brick variegated in color and trimmed with light granite and dark stone.

At the regular meeting held last night a communication was read from Geo. F. Reid, president of the street railway company, having the franchise to construct and operate a street railway in the city of Brainerd, asking for an extension of time for the commencement of actual work of construction until Sept. 15, 1915.

The city attorney was instructed to draw up an amendment to so change the ordinance to read as Mr. Reid desired. The war scare and the condition of the money market was given as the cause of the delay but it was stated by Mr. Reid that actual work would commence in a short time as the company was now incorporated in another state which would remove the restriction of selling the bonds at less than par. The company is said to be in good financial condition and no further hitch on the development work is anticipated, according to Mr. Reid.

The fire commissioner was instructed to make an inspection of all the basements in the city and see that they were kept up to the fire regulations.

A liquor license was granted to Geo. Donant, while the application of August Miller was turned down.

A building permit was granted to the First Methodist Episcopal church to enable them to change their church building and make the improvements planned.

A petition from south Fifth street residents calling for a sewer system, and to have the street curbed and paved with concrete was presented to the board. The matter was referred to the city attorney and the city engineer to have a suitable ordinance drafted and a district laid out to include the territory named.

A resolution was adopted ordering in a 6, 8 and 10 inch sewer to be laid to start at the intersection of Third street and Bluff avenue north, running thence east on Bluff avenue to Tenth street and then in a northerly direction to where it will connect with the general sewer.

An ordinance received its final reading licensing the use of streets, avenues and alleys by vehicles for the transportation of persons and properties, and making a license charge of $1 for one horse vehicles, $2 for two horses, $4 for four horses and $5 for more than four horses, $5 for an automobile and $3 for a motorcycle license to run for one year from date of issue.

An ordinance regulating the construction, maintenance and use of electric signs received its first reading.

The Southeast Brainerd sewer district "A" 3 and "C" 3 was taken up. The pastore Construction Co. of Duluth, bid $4.30 a foot for "A" 3 sewer and $3.00 per foot for "C" 3. F. A. Glass of Brainerd, bid $2.92 a foot for "A" 3 and "C" 3. Itstrup & Olson of Minneapolis, bid $4.10 a foot for "A" 3 and $2.90 for

"C" 3. The council had a very general discussion and ended up by rejecting all bids and the city clerk was instructed to advertise for more bids.

On motion the council adjourned until Monday night, Sept. 25 at which time any points overlooked in regard to the city hall may be taken up.

HOW INDIANS GET LIQUOR

Committee Has Figures to Show the Effect of Rigid Law Enforcement in the "Lid" District

A WHITE MAN'S COUNTRY

The committee having in charge the job before them of convincing the government that the enforcement of the "lid" in the so-called Indian country would be an injustice to the general public in order to secure the rescinding of the early treaties are preparing a line of argument which is outlined below in an article over a Bemidji date line, and as Brainerd came under Pussfoot Johnson's operations at the time the raids were made on the saloons of Northern Minnesota the subject will be interesting to those keeping in touch with later developments:

Five representatives of the organization of Northern Minnesota Business men known officially as the "Treaty committee" will go to Washington about Sept. 1 to arrange for a hearing later in the month when detailed arguments can be made against the enforcement of the Indian treaty "lid" in this vast territory.

Preliminary statistics to show the effect of the enforcement of the prohibition clause in the pact of 1865 will be submitted by these representatives as an argument for a more complete investigation by Franklin E. Lane, secretary of the interior, and Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs, directly in charge of the enforcement of the treaty provisions as outlined by the United States supreme court in the now famous "lid" case.

The committee has had a force of experts at work for several months gathering data on the subject. It will be shown that the territory covered by the 1855 treaty is 184 miles from east to west, extending from near Duluth to the Red River of the North on the western boundary of Minnesota, and 151 miles north and south at its widest point.

It is said that the white population is 400,000 and the Indian population, according to the government estimate, only 7,196.

The committee, however, says that these figures as to the Indians are exaggerated and that in reality there are not more than 4,000 in the territory covered by the lid order.

Statistics also are being prepared to show the rapid decrease in the area of Indian reservations in Minnesota. In 1888 the reservation covered 7,853 square miles of territory; in 1900, 2,447 square miles and in 1912 only 910 square miles, practically all in the Red Lake reservation.

There is not an acre of reservation land in the district covered by the 1855 treaty, it is said.

Other data is being prepared to show the authorities at Washington that this is not an Indian country, as it is said many of them suppose, but truly a "white man's country." To do this figures regarding the assessed valuation over a period of years, the value of farm property and products and other similar facts are being prepared.

The committee has made an investigation of how the Indians get liquor in this district. The report shows that it comes mostly from "bootleggers," and that the licensed saloons are very careful about dispensing firewater to the red men.

The Washington authorities will be asked to suspend any action in regard to enforcing the treaty lid until they have had time to examine into the situation. The argument will be advanced that to put the lid on in this district would in effect be depriving 400,000 whites of the right to determine the liquor question for themselves in order to save 4,000 Indians from the drink evil.

In addition an effort will be made to show that it is impossible to keep liquor from the Indians, lid or no lid, because if the country goes dry bootleggers from the surrounding wet territory will continue to do a thriving business, and will have whites as well as reds for their patrons.

Already the committee has obtained the adoption by twelve municipalities in the district of an ordinance prohibiting saloons from selling liquor by the jug, can or bottle. Other towns are expected to follow this example.

THREE DELEGATES ROAD CONGRESS

Mayor Henning Asked to Name Three Delegates to the American Road Congress at Atlanta

TO DISCUSS ROAD PROBLEMS

Every State Highway Commissioner Will be Present and Take Part in this Important Meeting

Mayor Henning of Brainerd, has been requested by the Hon. A. B. Fletcher, President of the Fourth American Road Congress and State Highway Engineer of California, to name three delegates to attend the sessions of the Congress at Atlanta, Georgia, during the week of November 9th.

Forty-seven great organizations are taking part in the Congress under the leadership of the American Highway association and the American Automobile association. In his letter to the mayor, President Fletcher calls attention to the fact that practically every state highway commissioner will be present and take part in discussing the important problems of road construction and maintenance and that some of the foremost men in public life will devote their attention to the great question of federal aid to road improvement, in an endeavor to work out a policy which may be submitted to the congress of the United States with the support of the organized road movement of America.

An important move bearing upon state legislation will be made at the session to be held under the auspices of the American Bar association, at which a joint committee, appointed at the 1913 congress, will report progress in compilation and suggested revision of state road laws. The creation of a commission participated in by each state to work out a revision of the road laws will be urged. The National Civil Service Reform League will hold an exceedingly important session on the merit system in road administration.

President Fletcher calls attention to the exhibits to be made by the United States government, the states and more than a hundred of the leading manufacturers at the congress, which will illustrate every known method, material and equipment for road construction and maintenance. He urges that the city and county be officially represented, as the congress is in reality a training school where a very great amount of useful information can be obtained through attendance at lectures with leading specialists in road and street work, and the collecting of the many instructive bulletins which will be available for distribution.

The headquarters of the congress are in the Colorado building, Washington, D. C., in charge of I. S. Penneybacker, executive secretary, and the exposition is in charge of Chas. P. Light, business manager.

Butter From Birds

Butter birds built nests in the tops of the caverns in niches and holes worn ages ago by water. A poke or two with a pole and the nest of gray clay looking like a big cheese came falling down, the young birds scattering on the floor of the cavern. The great lumps of fat between legs and under the tail of the nestlings were torn from them and piled into earthen pots and melted down into bird butter. The butter bird is about as large as a chicken and so sweet is the bird butter that it keeps a year or so without turning rancid. Rivaling "Zumalweiss" or grain belt beers in purity. J. O. ## "When the World was Silent"

"When the World Was Silent" is one of the strongest modern love dramas that has yet been conceived. You have heard of Beethoven, the great composer. But did you know that he became totally deaf when he was about thirty, and that he composed his greatest masterpieces after that time? It seems hard to believe, but such a thing is possible; and around this possibility the present play is woven—a play that is tense and thrilling, wherein a young musician, after having his hearing blotted out by the hand of his sweetheart, turned to composing and became famous.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Columbia

Those who attend the Columbia today and tomorrow will have nothing to say but words of praise. Five or six of the greatest actors and actresses in the film world will appear on one program. Alice Joyce and Tom Moore make their first appearance in their highly successful series, the first installment being "Nina of the Theatre." This play has been very carefully produced and is a special feature play with all that those words imply. Next to Mary Pickford, Alice Joyce perhaps is the most popular actress in America. She will come to the Columbia regularly every two weeks in a feature production. John Bunny and Flora Finch also give us a rollicking little comedy that is a dandy. Another drama of Gypsy life at Kent, England, will also hold the boards. If one just gives this array of features a second thought, they will pack up and come right down tonight. Mary Pickford comes this week on Thursday and Friday.

World Was Silent." The story in brief is as follows:
Will is a young musician of the modern school, rich in his own right, who has a consuming ambition to make a name for himself as a pianist. For years, however, he has had only one other interest—Leah. She has been his friend, sweetheart and adviser and has continued to love him passionately, always with the hope that some day he would marry her. Then the time comes when Will meets a society girl. She is flattered by his good looks and ability on the piano and Will, in turn, believes that marrying her will further his career. He decides on this step and informs Leah that they must part.

Leah, in a moment of passion one night, and knowing that it is only his ambition that keeps Will from her, enters his apartment and reforms him while he sleeps and pours poison into his ears. Then she escapes, taking a silver tea set to make robbery as the motive.

Will, with his hearing gone and unable to play, is thrown aside by the society girl. His butler, a faithful fellow, swears to bring the person guilty of poisoning his master, to justice. Time passes; Leah marries Will, though the latter does not know her guilt. They are happy and it is through her that the musician is led to take up composing. Also, she teaches him the language of the lips. It is the butler who secures the evidence against Leah. While he decides to remain quiet, now that his master is happy, Will finds out.

Leah is driven from the house. Several years pass by. Will has become famous by his compositions mainly through the efforts of a concert pianist, Madame Genevieve. Through the music-publishers a great recital is arranged—Will is to meet the pianist whom nobody seems to know much about. At the recital, Will comes face to face with his wife. Though he had driven her out she had toiled to become a great player simply to play his pieces and make him famous as a slight atonement for her crime. Reconciliation comes in a scene that is rife with pathos.

GET the taste of the richest tobacco grown. "Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew that you hear men boosting to their friends.

You'll be glad, too, that you've found "Right-Cut"—and to pass the word along to men that you know.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a steady chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and flavoring. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Columbia

Those who attend the Columbia today and tomorrow will have nothing to say but words of praise. Five or six of the greatest actors and actresses in the film world will appear on one program. Alice Joyce and Tom Moore make their first appearance in their highly successful series, the first installment being "Nina of the Theatre." This play has been very carefully produced and is a special feature play with all that those words imply. Next to Mary Pickford, Alice Joyce perhaps is the most popular actress in America. She will come to the Columbia regularly every two weeks in a feature production. John Bunny and Flora Finch also give us a rollicking little comedy that is a dandy. Another drama of Gypsy life at Kent, England, will also hold the boards. If one just gives this array of features a second thought, they will pack up and come right down tonight. Mary Pickford comes this week on Thursday and Friday.

World Was Silent." The story in brief is as follows:

Will is a young musician of the modern school, rich in his own right, who has a consuming ambition to make a name for himself as a pianist. For years, however, he has had only one other interest—Leah. She has been his friend, sweetheart and adviser and has continued to love him passionately, always with the hope that some day he would marry her. Then the time comes when Will meets a society girl. She is flattered by his good looks and ability on the piano and Will, in turn, believes that marrying her will further his career. He decides on this step and informs Leah that they must part.

Leah, in a moment of passion one night, and knowing that it is only his ambition that keeps Will from her, enters his apartment chloroforms him while he sleeps and pours poison into his ears. Then she escapes, taking a silver tea set to make robbery as the motive.

Will, with his hearing gone and unable to play, is thrown aside by the society girl. His butler, a faithful fellow, swears to bring the person guilty of poisoning his master, to justice. Time passes; Leah marries Will, though the latter does not know her guilt. They are happy and it is through her that the musician is led to take up composing. Also, she teaches him the language of the lips. It is the butler who secures the evidence against Leah. While he decides to remain quiet, now that his master is happy, Will finds out.

Leah is driven from the house. Several years pass by. Will has become famous by his compositions mainly through the efforts of a concert pianist, Madame Genevieve. Through the music publishers a great recital is arranged—Will is to meet the pianist whom nobody seems to know much about. At the recital, Will comes face to face with his wife. Though he had driven her out she had toiled to become a great player simply to play his pieces and make him famous as a slight atonement for her crime. Reconciliation comes in a scene that is rife with pathos.

YOUR BLOOD

is the canal of life but it becomes a sewer if clogged up. All life consists of building up and tearing down and just in the same manner that the blood carries to the various parts of the body the food that the cells need for building up, so it is compelled to carry away the waste material that's torn down. These waste materials are poisonous and destroy us unless the liver and kidneys are stimulated into refreshed and vigorous life.
